SPRING
(THE CLOISTER)

Chimes of gladness, chimes of sadness,
Peals and echoes dreamy drone.
On the sloping mountains yonder
Grass is growing, trees are green.
All the walls are freshly whitewashed:
Thus hath ordered mother Abbess . . .
By the cloister door alone,
Hark the ringer's daughter moans:
    O ye meadows, o my freedom,
    O the paths, the fields I loved!
    O the bridge, the clear green valley,
    Candle clear of Passion-Day!
    Alas, mine did burn so brightly,
    Why did thine not burn alike?
    O how ardent was his wooing
    And how ardent my poor heart!
    He has left me, lonely, grieving,
    By the bridge I stand alone.
    O the candles flamed and flickered,
    And he kiss'd my burning lips.
    Have I lost thee, well-beloved?
    Have I lost thee, o my heart's delight?
    O the mists of spring, the breezes,
    O the peace of days gone by!
Chimes of gladness, chimes of sadness,
Peals and echoes, dreamy drone.
On the sloping mountains yonder,
Grass is growing, trees are green.
All the walls are freshly whitewashed;
Thus hath ordered mother Abbess:
By the gloomy cloister-door
One must silence keep!

LA NOVICE
(CHANSON DE PRINTEMPS)

Cloches tristes, cloches graves,
Sons de songe, carillons.
Sur la pente des collines,
L'herbe verte reverdit.
Tous les murs blanchis reluisent,
C'est par ordre de l'abbesse . . .
A la porte du couvent,
Pleure la fille du sonneur:
    O les champs qui tant m'enchantent,
    Chers chemins que tant j'aimais!
    Petit pont et libre espace,
    Cierge pur du Jeu-di-Saint!
    Ah! du mien brûlait la flamme,
    Mais le sien, il s'éteignit!
    Il s'incline, son haleine brûle,
    Et mon coeur est brûlant!
    Il me quitte, je suis senle,
    Toute seule sur le pont.
    Ah! les flammes brillaient vives
    Nous échangeions des baisers.
    Mon ami si doux, si tendre,
    Tu es loin, hélas, mon bien aimé!
    Brises du printemps, et brumes,
    O bonheur des jours passés!
Cloches tristes, cloches graves,
Sons de songe, carillons.
Sur la pente des collines,
L'herbe verte reverdit.
Tous les murs, blanchis, reluisent;
Et, par ordre de l'abbesse:
Près des portes du couvent
Point de vain babill!

 Auf den ho -      ken Hü - gel -      rei - hen      lenzlich

The second system continues the musical score. It includes the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a prominent triplet figure in the right hand, which is repeated throughout the system. The lyrics describe a landscape with hills and a spring.

СКЛО - ны      зе - ле - ны.
 grü - nend      blüht das Gras.

The third system of the score shows the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part continues with the triplet accompaniment. A 'cresc.' (crescendo) marking is placed in the right-hand piano part towards the end of the system, indicating a gradual increase in volume.

Стѣ - ны вы - бѣ - ле - ны      бѣ - ло.
 Weiss ge - waschen sind die Mau - ern.

The fourth and final system on this page shows the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment. The lyrics describe white-washed walls. The system concludes with a final chord in the piano part.

A SONG OF THE DEW (MYSTIC SONG OF THE ANCIENT RUSSIAN FLAGELLANTS)

O mother earth, o dear one,
O fruitful one, o brown one!
The dingy hut is empty.
O come, celestial Spirit,
And bring us holy water;
With faith we'll glean each droplet.
    We have lingered, we have languished,
    Whilst our locks we plaited
    Sad and weary, lonely pining,
    Whilst we gleaned the dewdrops.
    And at each cool drop we murmured,
    And we sang in chorus,
    Gently thrusting slender branches
    Towards one another:
    Spinster shall remain the maiden;
    Would she be a bride?
    Bringest thou fine gifts, o maiden
    That woldst be a bride?
    Blush not, give the mark so dainty that adorns thy nape.
    Blush not, give a cross well polished,
        give a cross of ash!
    Hear ye not how in the yard
    Proudly strutting, mounting guard,
    A fine cockerel crows high!
    Rustles spreading far and wide;
    Soon, aye, soon, at eventide,
    Each of you shall be a bride!
A seat of loam well trodden,
Dull panes in every window,
The dingy hut stands empty.
He comes, the Holy Spirit,
He casts o'er us his shadow.
O sisters, praise the Maker!

LA ROSÉE SAINTE (CHANT MYSTIQUE DES VIEUX-CROYANTS FLAGELLANTS)

O terre brune et bonne,
Aïeule très féconde!
Plus rien dans la chaumière . . .
O viens, esprit céleste,
Apporte l'eau qui sauve:
Nous l'attendons, ferventes!
    Nous restâmes, languissantes,
    En tressant nos nattes,
    Nous languimes, gémissantes,
    Recueillant la rosée fraîche.
    Et à chaque gouttelette
    Disant en sourdine,
    Nous caressant l'une l'autre
    De branchettes fines:
    Les fillettes restent filles:
    Vous vous fiancez?
    Qu'apportez-vous, belles filles,
    Pour vos fiancés?
    Un grain de beauté peut être,
        sur le bras joli?
    Une belle croix de hêtre
        dur et bien poli?
    Dans un coin, là, près du mur
    Sur un pieu de hêtre dur,
    Voyez quel beau petit coq!
    Gaîment montent mille bruits,
    Vous aurez, avant la nuit,
    Chacune un beau fiancé!
Un banc de terre dure,
Des vitres pas trop claires,
Plus rien dans la chaumière.
Voyez, l'esprit céleste
Étend sur nous ses ailes.
Ho, femmes, croyez en Dieu!
