Prelude

The musical score consists of six staves of handwritten notation on five-line staff paper. The notation uses a variety of note heads, including circles, squares, triangles, and diamonds, often with internal markings like 'e', 'r', 'a', 'v', 'b', and 'f'. Rests are represented by short horizontal strokes. Measure numbers '1', 'II', '3', and '4' are placed above specific measures. Fingerings such as '5', '6', and '7' are indicated below certain notes. The score begins with a single note 'b' on the first staff, followed by a series of eighth-note patterns. The second staff begins with a measure starting with a circle 'e'. The third staff starts with a square 'r'. The fourth staff starts with a triangle 'a'. The fifth staff starts with a diamond 'f'. The sixth staff concludes with a flourish.
